ANGLEBROOK GOLF CLUB

Lincolndale

Hole No. 18 414 Yards Par 4

EVERY COURSE NEEDS A ROUND-BUSTER, A HOLE SO HARD THAT YOU know on the tee you're going to have to be either really lucky or really good to make a par, much less a birdie. That's the last hole at Anglebrook, where you can play it safe, safer, or safest—or you can take a big risk and finish your round with one of the most satisfying birdies in Westchester. The key is how you avoid the 25-yard-long bunker that haunts the very middle of the fairway less than 200 yards from the tee. The safe play is left of the bunker—there's more room there than you think, although you're flirting with the environmentally sensitive waste area if you take that route. Safer is to the right side of the bunker, but that leaves you with a less-than-optimal angle to the green and a long shot to boot. Or you can take the safest play and hit a hybrid off the tee short of the bunker and go for the green with a 3 wood, the preferred strategy of Head Pro Rob Davis. If risk is your thing, though, just go ahead and drive right over the bunker so you have a mid-iron from the perfect angle into the elevated green. Just make sure your drive is no more than 250 yards, however, or you'll end up at the bottom of the waste area that cuts the fairway in two—just one more way this hole can bust your round. ■

Readers' Picks for 2009!

We'd like your help in choosing the Best 18 holes in Westchester and the Hudson Valley for our 2009 Golf Guide.

Is there a hole on your home course that's your particular favorite? One that is a great test of golf, requires extra finesse, or is just downright fun to play? We want to know, so tell us which holes you think deserve to be named the Best of the Best—and why—by visiting westchestermagazine.com or hvmag.com and adding your comments.
